

The Oakleys

*This is the Oakley family
They work the Banba Farm
While wise old Grandpa Oakley
Keeps them out of harm!*

Loey is the head of the Oakley Family now Grandad has retired, although he still gives Loey and his wife Libby lots of advice about working the land at Banba Farm, while keeping an eye on everything that goes on in Bally Bo.

They and the rest of the Oakley clan live in amazing hanging houses in Oakley Forest, which are raised up at night, and lowered down when they go to work, or when friends come to visit.

Loey is Jon's cousin, and he and Libby are always around to help the Coshis out, and in return the Coshis often help them out on the farm, harvesting the crops, bringing the fibo in for the winter, and of course dealing with Lugo every time he fancies himself as a farmer!
